EASTERN NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Failure of Silk.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The Silk Association of America has made up a comparative table of imports of manufactures of silk at this port in August, from 1868 to 1875 inclusive, which shows a total gold value of imports the past month at $2,850,780, which average well with the last five years, and is a considerable increase over August, 1874. Of the 46 bales received, 65 came from England and the continent, 34 by the overland route and 46 by Panama. This represents nine-tenths of the whole imports from which government derives about a million dollars duties.

Theatrical.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Last night was Hamlet night in New York at Booth's Theatre, where Mr. Barry Sullivan began his engagement for 100 representations in this country under the management of Jarrett & Palmer. The theatre was densely filled and the presence of the 69th regiment together with the whole vast assemblage, gave an uncommonly brilliant appearance to the occasion. It was a festival of welcome in which Irish and Irish Americans paid honor and homage to a distinguished countryman. Torchlight procession, fireworks and serenade by the 69th band supplemented the performance. The Grand Opera House was also filled by a fine audience drawn by the announcement that Mr. Davenport would play Hamlet. He was received with great enthusiasm, and the welcoming applause continued during that the veteran actor, showed signs of embarrassment. Mr. Sullivan, Davenport was called before the curtain at the close of every act, and throughout the play each was liberally applauded by the respective audiences.

Oil Boat Burned.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 31.—To-night the canal-boat of J. Sykes, with 2,000 barrels coal oil, was burned; caused by an explosion; two men injured.

The Atlantic and Pacific Telegraph to be Sold to Whomsoever will Buy.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Sydney Dillon, of the representatives of the Atlantic and Pacific Telegraph Company, in conference with representatives of the Western Union Telegraph Company, denies that any proposition involving the sale or lease of the Atlantic and Pacific lines on the basis of 20 or 25 per cent of its capital stock has been suggested or accepted. The latter denies that negotiations with the Western Union have been broken off on account of a proposition from the New York National Telegraph Company, or that the president of the latter has in his way been hard to conclude negotiations. Months ago Mr. Cohen, on behalf of the new company, made a proposition to the Atlantic and Pacific company expressing a desire to purchase the latter lease or its assets, but nothing more has been heard from him since. The story about provisions in by laws compelling the Atlantic and Pacific Company to advertise for six weeks before sale, Mr. Dillon pronounced absurd. The best interests of the company for reasons will be subserved, and parties who bid high enough will get the line, no matter who they are.

Why the W. U. Stock Declined.

The well-informed financial writer of the Times, in reference to-day, says the decline in Western Union yesterday was due to reports that the proposed consolidation with the Atlantic and Pacific is not likely to take place.

Erie Shafters.

The treasurer of the Erie Railroad Company, it is stated, has been enjoined from paying interest on consolidated mortgage bonds. He is, however, authorized to pay interest on the second and third mortgages due to-day.

A Combination among Carriers.

The Panama Railroad and Pacific Mail Steamship Company have ratified the new contract, but decline at present to make the terms public.

Lady and her Daughter Drowned.

Miss Tucker and daughter, of Essex street, in this city, were drowned yesterday while bathing at Rockaway.

A Big Haul.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 1.—An extensive robbery was committed some time during last night at the pawnbroker establishment of D. Chamberlain. The burglars succeeded in entering the safe and carrying off gold watches, 33 silver watches and diamonds and jewelry amounting in value to $7,000.

Agreement between the Panama Railway and Pacific Mail S. S. Co.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—By the terms of the agreement between the Panama Railway and Pacific Mail Steamship Companies, the business of both companies comprising carriage of freight and passenger carriage, is to be divided. Of business, the Panama will receive one-third. Business of both companies is to be divided equally. The agreement is for five years, dating from March 14, 1875.

Gold for San Francisco—Merchants' Bank to Resume.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—It is reported on the street that about $600,000 in gold has been sent overland to-day to San Francisco. A telegram from Washington states that arrangements have been made for immediate resumption of business by the Merchants' Bank of San Francisco.

Further Telegraph Rumors.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—The executive committee of the Western Union Telegraph Company has decided, as understood that the proposition from the Atlantic and Pacific directors would be submitted for their consideration.

All Rescued Sick and Help Refused.

CHARLESTON, Sept. 1.—The schooner N. N. Miller 13 days from Boston, for Jacksonville, has arrived here and reports that when five days out, all on board, excepting the master, were taken down with fever. August 26th she spoke an English bark, which refused assistance, but on the 29th she spoke the schooner Annie L. Palmer, Capt. Lord, of Bath, Maine, who rendered prompt assistance. Two men are recovering; four still dangerously ill.

American Stocks in London.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—A dispatch from London says that the opening of business this morning there was a fair demand for American securities and all Cough prices as a rule are lower. The markets are generally steady. Consols advanced ½. U. S. government bonds, 5-20s of 1867 advanced and quoted at 103¾, while 5-20s of 1868 declined ⅜, and are quoted at 103¾.

Active Demand for U. S. Securities.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—The Evening Post says such information as that for U. S. bonds in Europe that the Rothschild-Morgan-Belmont syndicate having charge of the sale of the new funding bonds of 5 per cent have been able to request the secretary to call in another five million dollars of 5-20s six per cents. The call will be issued this afternoon, and will be limited to 5-20s of 1862.

A New Banking Institution.

The Central Trust Company opened for business this morning with offices at the corner of Pine and Nassau streets. This company organized with a capital stock of $1,000,000. The promoters and officers of the company are among the best known merchants of New York. The president is Mr. Wilson Small.

Coal Miners Killing People for Pastime.

POTTSVILLE, Sept. 1.—There was much excitement at Shenandoah this afternoon, occasioned by the shooting of Thomas Sanger, at Lehigh colliery, Sanger and Minnie, boss for J. M. Heston & Co., at March Run mines, and was shot by five men, all strangers. He received six bullets and died instantly. Another man unknown was also shot. The cause of the assassination is said to be that the miners became dissatisfied with Sanger a year ago, and refused to work under him. They resumed labor, however, but since he has received death notices, and notices to leave or he would be killed. A later telegram says two more men have been shot.

More Frauds in the Indian Department.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 1.—Investigation of charges against Indian Agent Gibson, of the Osage agency, has been concluded so far as the taking of testimony is concerned, and the commissioners have adjourned to Lawrence to examine certain documents and make up their report. It is said the evidence against Gibson is very damaging, and his removal will probably be recommended. It was shown he has made a practice of having vouchers signed in blank, and then filling them up with larger sums than he actually paid. It was also shown in the habit of buying up vouchers at heavy discount, and pocketing the profits. An attempt was made to extend the scope of the investigation so as to include certain charges of fraud against Superintendent Hoag, but it failed, mainly because witnesses were out of reach and declined to testify.

Appointments and Denials.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—The "opposition" announces, on the authority of Mills, that the Bank of California resumes next week. Also that the Bulletin announcement over issue, and the abstraction of the coupons from envelopes that the Bank commissioners emphatically deny. Also that the Bulletin account of Shattuck's course is condemned everywhere as an attempt to influence the election at the expense of the safety of the community, and that public indignation is manifestable in the sudden decrease of advertising.

Boston Wool Quotations.

BOSTON, Sept. 1.—Wool quiet; California spring, 27@36c, as to quality.

WASHINGTON CITY.

The President Getting his Eyes Open.

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—A Washington special says the announcement is made, upon high authority, that the first message to congress will contain a recommendation that the Indian bureau be turned over to the management of the war department. This is accepted as evidence that the president has finally become convinced that at least some of the frauds charged upon the present administration of the Indian service have a foundation in fact. It also gives further color to the rumor that Delano will be superseded by J. Rossell Jones, of Illinois, as it is hardly probable that, after having taken such a course, Secretary Delano, the head of the interior department, will remain in the cabinet. The president has always been in favor of having the control of the Indians vested in the war department, but has had a desire to give the peace policy people a fair opportunity to demonstrate their peculiar fitness for the work, and now that they have failed so miserably, he will use all his influence to secure the adoption of a system which he is convinced is the better one.

Public Debt Statement.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—The reduction of the public debt during August was $1,585,049; coin in treasury, $71,117,272; currency, $16,623,903; special deposit for redemption of certificates of deposit, $61,780,000; coin certificates, $126,155,000; legal tenders, $374,245,708.

Coin Transfers to San Francisco.

The treasury department having been informed from San Francisco that a little over five hundred thousand of the bullion fund, in that city, could be used in business by coin transfers, the amount was apportioned to parties asking transfers. The applications of to-day were greatly in excess of means of accommodation.

Excursion to California.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—An excursion, composed of persons from different parts of the United States, under the auspices of the California Immigrant Union, will leave Chicago for California on the 11th instant.

Naval Notes.

Lieut. Commander A. F. Heymond is detached from the Alert and ordered to the Tuscarora, at Mare Island navy yard, as executive officer. Lieut. A. F. Filtcen is detached from the Tuscarora and ordered to the store ship Onward at Callao, Peru, as executive officer.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

France at our Centennial.

PARIS, Aug. 31.—In a speech at a meeting of manufacturers of the department of the Loire, today, Jules Meux, minister of agriculture and commerce, urged the French manufacturers to send their products to the American continent. He said he had asked special security for objects sent, and the right to affix the rural prizes thereto exclusive of American custom duties. He felt hopeful that a great extension of French commerce would result.

Contradictory Turkish War News.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—The Times' special from Buda, Pesth, says news from the most reliable sources from the Bosnian frontier, is that all the insurgents who have not fled to Austria have submitted to the Pasha. Bosnia may be considered pacified.

The Times' Berlin special says that after the recent appointment of Mahmoud Pasha as grand vizier, there is less hope than ever of the insurgents coming to terms. He is regarded as a champion of of sublute government, and his very presence in the cabinet is calculated to make the insurgents desperate. His appointment, unless more recent, is proof that the sultan is determined to maintain the system which produced the present outbreak.

Supplies for the Polar Expedition.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—Capt. Nares, of the British Polar expedition, in a communication to the admiralty officials, says the supplies at Disco appear to be in a fair state of preservation, considering the time they have been exposed. The Danish officials have taken great pains to prevent their deterioration.

The British and Chinese Trouble.

The foreign office denies the truth of the telegram published yesterday that the British minister at Pekin has presented an ultimatum to the government of China.

The Servians all Satisfied.

BELGRADE, Sept. 1.—The young Servian party honored Prince Milan by a torchlight procession last night, as a mark of their gratitude for the formation of a cabinet favorable to them. The ministry under the same party has been elected president of the Scupshchina. It is reported Turkish troops have been withdrawn from the Servian frontier.

State of Turkish Civil War.

RAGUSA, Aug. 31.—The Turkish troops have received Mylkie. The insurgents retired into the mountains. Communications between these places and Trebigne have been re-established.

Bank of England Notes Refused on Account of Counterfeits.

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 1.—Swedish banks refuse to cash Bank of England notes, on account of the number of counterfeits reported in circulation.

England and the East.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—A special dispatch to the Times from Calcutta says a private telegram from Calcutta reports that the King of Burmah has refused to receive Cap. Duncan. The report is not confirmed, and its authority is doubted.

Col. Brown will return from Shanghai soon. It is learned that he has not made much progress in his inquiry into the attack upon his force in Yannan, owing to obstructions thrown in his way by the Chinese.

CANADA.

Forty Cents on the Dollar.

TORONTO, Sept. 1.—At a meeting of the creditors of Moffatt Bros. to-day the assets $700,000, liabilities $ 0,000), a composition of 40 cents on the dollar was accepted.

WASHINGTON COUNTY LETTER.

Our energetic correspondent writing from Hillsboro under date of Sept. 1st, says:

The threshing season is now about half through, and in accordance with the prophesy of the OREGONIAN, the gentle dews are decidedly inclined downward this fall. But some declare that it is the making of the sprinklers for the fair grounds that has stirred up the elements.

Our grain prospects are quite encouraging; we hear of woeful failures in some instances, whilst others get unusual large yields. The trouble with our county is the lack of machinery to save the harvest. Such will always be the case as long as our farmers depend upon machines that are run for money as a business, for men buying machines make calculation for running the entire summer and fall, and will contract as much or more than they can do, to the exclusion of others; hence one-third must wait and suffer damage. Farmers must give up this idea of dependence upon the movements of others, and every three or four of them club together and buy for their own use, as they would other farming implements. There is more grain wasted in this county every year than would buy three or four machines.

The Washington county fair is fast approaching, and soon will be here, and its excitements swallowed up in those of the State fair. The society is working might and main to accommodate all who wish to come. The directors have ordered 12 additional stalls for horses. They are to be an improvement on those we have, in that they are to be higher and so arranged that the feed may be kept over head. They have also ordered a lot of new booths erected, which are to be regular buildings, 30 feet square, divided into four compartments, making each stall a corner one. The secretary, Mr. Pittinger, informs me that some 38 stalls for horses have been already engaged for the fair, and it is thought that booths for all who desire will be hard to get. One sprinkler is now actively engaged on the track. The secretary, under instructions, has repaired the dam of the old mill close by, and constructed 150 feet of fluming, so that the water is run into the sprinkling cart without any labor or delay. The water will have to be hauled about one-fourth of a mile, and it is estimated that one cart will distribute 4,000 gallons of water per day. Since the society is almost out of debt, it is the purpose of the present board of directors to do all in their power to make all comfortable who will come. The secretary is ordered to extend complimentary tickets to General Sheridan and those that come with him to visit our county fair, and nothing would please our people better than to have the distinguished ladies and gentlemen give our fair a visit, and inspect our products and stock, that they may form some idea of what Oregon is doing.

There is a strong effort to get up a protracted meeting in this place some time during the fall, to be held during the day, on Hillsboro park. The meeting will be a union of all churches, and efforts will be made to secure the ablest ministers of the state.

The Good Templars are to have, in October, a grand festival and blowout at their hall in this place, and all seemed determined to make the occasion a success.

A VERY SAD CASE.—The other day a Detroit mother poured some ink on the pantry-shelf, near the sugar-box, and went up stairs, leaving her small son playing with the cat. When she came down the boy sat by the window, wearing a placid, innocent look, but there were ink-stains on his fingers. "There! you've been at the sugar!" she exclaimed, as she seized him by the collar. "Mother, do you think I'd steal sugar?" "What made 'em?" "Those stains, mother?" "Yes, those stains." "Well, I cannot tell you a bold lie, mother—I think I've commenced to mortify!" She wasn't quite sure; and he was allowed to go out and play circus.—Detroit Free Press.

CALIFORNIA.

Merchants' Exchange Bank Resumes.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 1.—The Merchants' Exchange bank will open to-morrow morning. The president states personally that a sufficient amount of coin has been collected in the regular way of business to enable the bank to meet all demands. Notification of resumption will appear in the evening papers. There seems to be a loosening in the money market with returning confidence.

Greenbacks 87 buying; 87¾ selling.

Sailed for Hongkong.

The Pacific Mail steamer China, for Hongkong via Yokohama, sailed to-day.

It is reported there will be a meeting of the stockholders of the Bank of California, and it is surmised a report of the directors will be presented, but we are unable as yet to verify the statement.

Result of the Election Unknown.

Owing to the number of tickets scratched and the mode of conducting the election, the result cannot even be guessed at present.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 1.—The vote of the city is about 25,000. No money spent. Can't speculate on the result before midnight.

STOCKTON, Sept. 1.—The total vote of the city was 1,725. The election of Evans (Rep.) for State Senator is conceded. The Republican legislative ticket is probably elected. Phelps will have a small majority in the county from present indications. Irwin ran well in the city.

VALLEJO, Sept. 1.—Total vote of the city, 1,619; much scratching; counting slow. The estimated vote on the state ticket is, Republican 800, Democratic 500, Independent 300. Independents generally vote for Luttrell. Hilborn (Rep.), for senator, is ahead of his ticket. There is a party vote for the assembly. Returns from the county indicate the election of the Republican legislative ticket, with a probability of a general Republican success.

THE SEA-SERPENT AGAIN.

SIX REPUTABLE PERSONS REPORT HAVING SEEN HIM ON FRIDAY NEAR SWAMPSCOTT.

The Boston Advertiser publishes the following letter, with this preface: "It is from a perfectly trustworthy source, and describes an incident which has excited a lively speculation along the north shore since last Friday. The truthfulness of the statement may be relied upon; the party, consisting of four persons, besides the two sailors, agree in making their statements. They all have good eyesight, and the gentlemen are accustomed to the sea along this coast and elsewhere:"

SWAMPSCOTT, July 31, 1875.

On our way over to Nahant to call on you yesterday, we met with an adventure which caused us to postpone that pleasure, and which has created quite an excitement in our usually quiet household. Our party consisted of my reverend brother, Miss Mary F——, L—— and myself, with two sailors. We were sailing in my yacht about half way between Swampscott and Egg Rock, the sea being quite rough, owing to the strong south-easterly wind of the previous night, when we espied a school of black-fish or small whales, between Egg Rock and Little Nahant. While we were watching their movements through our glasses, the head of an immense fish or sea monster suddenly emerged from among them, remained above water for some seconds, and fell again, causing the water to boil, for some distance around it; and this performance it repeated at intervals of perhaps two minutes. This being something none of us had ever seen before, we at once headed the yacht for the creature. When first seen it was at a distance of about two miles from us, and heading towards us. I had on board a small breech-loading Ballard rifle, calibre 44, conical ball, and as soon as we were within 300 yards I fired at it, but without effect, as the motion of the vessel was so great that it was almost impossible to get a steady aim. We chased it about the bay for two hours, and during that time I fired at it about twenty times, at distances varying from 100 to 300 yards. Once we distinctly heard the ball strike it, but with no perceptible effect. Finally it started out to sea, and when last seen it was heading in a south-easterly direction, some four or five miles out. During all this time it was accompanied by the black-fish, some fifteen or twenty in number, one of which seemed to keep close alongside of it. Its description, as nearly as I can give it to you, is as follows: The head reminded me of a lizard's head, long, flat on top, from one to two and a-half feet across, with eyes large and prominent, set well back on the upper part; a large mouth, which we could see open occasionally. This head it raised about eight feet from the surface of the water, bringing it up slowly, and keeping it up five or ten seconds, when it would plunge back with a quick motion like a dive, and showing a small portion of the back, where we could see a pointed fin about one and a-half or two feet long, standing straight up, and in front we could see the upper part of what looked like short legs, or the flappers of a seal, but it never raised the extremities from the water. Its color was a smooth, glossy black, except the under part of the lower jaw, and as much of the breast, as we could see, which was white, with a distinct line of demarcation between the two colors. I could see nothing that looked like scales. We could, of course, tell nothing about the length of his body, but there must have been an immense power somewhere to enable it to raise such a head and neck, slowly, such a distance above the surface, and to hold it there for so long a time. It was distinctly seen by one of our fishermen, who passed within a few hundred yards while we were chasing it. No one in this neighborhood ever saw anything like it before, and if it was not the original sea serpent, I should like to know what it was?

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Capt. Wilkinson, U. S. A., has been preaching in Victoria.

Mrs. F. M. Phelps reopened the Theatre Royal, Victoria, last Friday.

The California brought to Victoria $60,000 in dust from the Cassiar mines.

The Victoria papers have dispatches to the effect that the president and cashier of the California bank "shot themselves dead."

Lizzer Gorbain, second officer of the steamship Salvador, drowned himself at Victoria on Saturday, through grief at the supposed loss of his savings, by the failure of the Bank of California.

The Standard says the steamer Favorite has sold out to the North Pacific, mail contract and all. So ends the spirited opposition that has been kept up for a length of time between these two boats, and which was the means of reducing the fare from $5 to $1 to any port on the Sound. The present rate of fare between the Sound and Victoria is $7.

This world would be a sandy desert of lonesomeness if women were not privileged to attend auction sales and pay more for an old bureau than a new chamber set would cost.

CONSISTENCY VS. TRUTH.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean takes two columns of proof quotation to prove that the Chicago Tribune is guilty of a lack of "consistency." The Tribune's baseness consists in the fact that whereas a month or two ago a foreign architectural commission decided that the new custom house in Chicago had a poor foundation, the Tribune credited that statement; but, a vastly more competent board of local architects having subsequently come to a contrary conclusion, the Tribune yields to the latter judgment, and urges that a million and a half of money and two years' time ought to be saved by the immediate resumption of the work on the present foundations. The Tribune acknowledges its consistency, justifies it upon the above statement of facts, and proceeds with its thunderous demand for the progress of the government building, without more quarreling or ado.

The popular impression that a public journal, in order to be honest, must necessarily be "consistent," is one of the absurdest fallacies of the times. Inconsistency is the necessary and invariable hand-maid alike of truth, of sincerity, and of progress. The journal which, having given its version of facts in accordance with its earliest information, deducting therefrom certain conclusions which, upon subsequent fuller information, it finds to be unwarranted and unjust, but which it refuses to reverse, is a narrow and cowardly fraud, and will receive no credit because it is deserving of none. Consistency in such a case is perversion of justice and a dissemination of falsehood. It is the mean and contemptible attribute of a mean and contemptible mind, and it argues an utter absence of that frank and open manliness which is not more prompt to acknowledge a fault, than instant to redress it.

Consistency in questions of fact and statement, however, is not more impossible to an honorable and intelligent journal, than consistency in matters of principle. Progress never stops in its persistent inquiry to remember what it may have uttered yesterday, or to accept that version as a guide to what it may have to utter to-day, in the presence of new light, new information, and clearer visions of truth. Consistency in such a case is like a brake upon a railroad train screwed tightly on the wheels, and never lifted to allow the onward progress of the engine. Had the American people maintained their consistency during the war, the curse of slavery would to-day have clouded the Union, and had Abraham Lincoln maintained his consistency, the proclamation of emancipation would never have adorned the page of history. "I have no purpose," said he in his first inaugural address, "directly or indirectly, to interfere with the institution of slavery in the states where it exists. I believe I have no lawful right to do so, and I have no inclination to do so." But with the march of events came both the lawful right and the inclination. Slowly and painfully, to be sure—though fatally and anxiously—came the conclusion which decided him to resort to this great proclamation of progress, but it came at last, and the inconsistency which tinctured the act was the grandest action of his life.

Honest journalism is like honest statesmanship, consistent to nothing save to truth. The opinion of yesterday—the product of haste, misinformation, prejudice, too often of personal bias and unjustifiable heat, must give way to the opinion of to-day, which is the result of added light of fuller facts, and of calmer, cooler, truer judgment. Given a "consistent" journal, and it will prove to be a narrow apologist, an abject slave to parties and to men, a defender of official rottenness, corruption and infamy, and the servile whitewasher of every political kitchen whose occupant is a voter of its regular ticket. It rises to no honorable attitudes of leadership—it is rather the insignificant camp-follower of a raiding squad, without sufficient standing or honor to gain admission to the tents of its chief despoilers, much less to be honored and looked up to as a counselor of wisdom, judgment, and dignity.

It is not only the inconsistency of modern journalism which is its most progressive trait, but it is the inconsistency of the modern voter that is his most honorable title. The men who swell with petty pride when they boast that they have never scratched a ticket, are the men whose counsels it is safe to avoid, and whose opinions are held in incredible contempt. In point of fact, such brainless consistency has no opinions. They accept the manufactured product of other minds, and are unquestioningly consistent so they see that the packages of principles which regularly come down to them from the accustomed mill, are labeled with the familiar and accepted trade-mark.

The inconsistency, then, which the Inter-Ocean points out and characterizes as a stigma, the Chicago Tribune bravely accepts and glories in as a testimony of honesty and independence. It is not the first time, either, that its editor has demonstrated his claim to esteem in this regard. It is not many years since he was a pronounced and earnest protectionist; now he is a consistent and able advocate of free trade, reform, or equality of taxation. Formerly he believed the greenback the stay of the nation; now he is the sturdy enemy of unfulfilled rag promises, in whatever form they appear. Once he would have scarcely ventured to criticise the policy of his own party, or to call in question the wisdom of its administration. Now he loses no opportunity to denounce corruption in high or low places, to point out crimes of omission and commission, and to indicate such better and higher policies, and such clearer and truer reforms, as he believes the president and the party ought to vindicate and carry out. Of course he is not always right. No man is infallible. But herein lies the glory of his inconsistency; for no sooner does he discover his error than he proceeds to acknowledge and correct it, and to modify or remodel his opinions by the added light of newer discoveries and broader experiences.

This be it said to its honor, then—the progressive journalism of the day is not consistent—it is simply honest. It is not halting and conservative—it is inventive and progressive. It is not slavish and subservient—it is courageous and independent. And it says to every carping bigot who suffers by its attitude of self assertion and reform—"If this be treason, make the most of it!"—St. Paul Press.

CALIFORNIA OYSTERS.

The first business trains which crossed the Pacific railroad contained cars freighted with oysters. As it was known that California did not possess any edible quality of this bivalve, Mr. A. Booth, of Chicago, undertook the transportation and planting of many thousand bushels of oysters on the Pacific coast. Similar changes which oysters undergo when transplanted along the Atlantic coast have already been proved to take place on the Pacific coast with the oysters coming from the eastern regions.

In going south, the round shape of the shell is elongated until off the coasts of Georgia and Florida they assume a razor-shaped shell. In California our transplanted oyster loses its oval or round shape and lengthens out. The Northern oysters planted in San Francisco bay are put out in four or five feet of water, and mature and fatten rapidly in from six to twelve months. In New York bay this takes from two to four years. Every year some 500 car loads of small oysters are transported across the continent, to be brought up in the Pacific.

There are some peculiarities as to the character or origin of the oyster to be transplanted. They always come from Egg harbor, Raritan bay, Newark bay and Long Island Sound. The more southern seed invariably dies. There appears to be a limit to the growth of any kind of Eastern oysters in the Pacific waters; after a certain period, a year and a half at the utmost, for some reason as yet not well understood—perhaps the meat becoming too large for the shell planted—the oysters die. A great deal of precaution is necessary in guarding these planted oysters. A fence of pickets six inches apart is placed around the California oyster park. The enemies of the oyster are the stingarees and star fish; at low tide the oyster shepherd goes in and kills such marine wolves as may be devouring his flock.—Chicago Paper.

FURTHER OF THE FAILURE.

[DETAILS BY MAIL.]

On last Saturday the excitement in San Francisco attending the great monetary crash had nearly subsided and matters were rapidly becoming quiet. The Chronicle of Sunday containing its narrative of the facts, scenes and incidents of the hour says:

Yesterday the scene on California street was like that after a destructive storm. Everybody wanted to know what damage had been done, and all were more or less sympathetic. Bankers and brokers were subdued, and they sadly shook their heads when the failure of the Bank of California and the sudden death of William C. Ralston were mentioned. The death of the bank president undoubtedly had much to do with staying the fury of the storm, and many timid persons found safety in the calm which followed the closing of the great banker's earthly career. Some few, who lost their self-control when the failure of the bank was first made public, had not recovered their equanimity, and they walked about complaining of sleepless nights and severe headaches. The mourning drapery on the building reminded them of the city's great loss, and with the spirit of

BRAVE, BIG-HEARTED CALIFORNIANS,

They turned their eyes from the bank, and, hoping for the best, withdrew from the scene. Everybody congratulated themselves that San Francisco's "Black Friday" had not been more disastrous. Managers of banks seemed to have somewhat recovered from the shock and spoke cheeringly of the future. Attention, when distracted from the Bank of California, was divided between the Merchants' Exchange Bank and the National Gold Bank and Trust Company. Both of these banks have, it is believed, a first-rate foundation, and all that they need is a little time to give them an opportunity to recover what is owing to them and to realize on some of their securities.

The Merchants' Exchange Bank is negotiating for $1,000,000, and this they expect to secure. Their assets are far in excess of their liabilities, and this is likewise the case with the National Gold Bank and Trust Company. There is a balance of about $3,000,000 in the sub-treasury, which will be placed on the market this week. Already bankers and brokers are

ANTICIPATING A GOOD MARKET

Just as soon as the Bank of California's affairs shall have been put in a fair way for settlement and the stock boards shall have resumed business. Until some reliable statement is made concerning the status of depositors in the Bank of California, it will be impossible for brokers or their customers to know how they stand.

THE SHIPMENTS OF GOLD.

Much has been said about the large shipments of coin from San Francisco this year. The extent of this movement is made plain by a comparison with the previous years. This has been as follows for seven months with respect to gold coin shipments:

	1874.	1875.
January	$ 2,677,000	$ 524,700
February	257,600	4,458,900
March	146,500	4,285,900
April	903,100	2,105,700
May	457,200	1,853,600
June	1,114,200	2,987,400
July	163,700	1,629,300
Totals	$5,911,400	$18,237,400

No such amount of coin has ever before been shipped from the city in the same interval. The drain has been more than the market could bear, and hence the temporary inconvenience now felt. Even in the London panic of 1866, when the treasure movement here was very active, no such volume of coin disappeared.

VARIOUS NOTES.

The United States mint has set all its force to work coining twenty-dollar pieces, while at the same time the superintendent, from the bullion fund, pays for deposits within twenty-four hours after they have been placed in the mint.

When Mr. Ralston left the bank of California to take his last long walk on Friday afternoon he wore on one of his fingers a diamond ring. He still had it before he disrobed preparatory to bathing. But it did not deck the cold hand of the inanimate form that was delivered to the friends of the dead at the home of Colonel Fry, and its disappearance is still a mystery, though a strict investigation may throw some light upon it.

It was incorrectly stated yesterday that the National Gold Bank and Trust Company intended to resume business to-morrow. The directors have decided not to open the doors until the latter part of the week. There is about $1,500 000 due the bank, and as this is in good hands the bank officials expect to obtain it within a few days and proceed with business as usual. This $1,500,000 is in addition to the regular discount business of the bank.

Mr. Burling, a leading broker of the city, called upon Mr. Ralston at the bank on Friday morning, and noticing his greatly flushed face, said to him: "You must go away from the city, Mr. Ralston,

GOLD NOTES VS GOLD COIN

A writer in the Evening Journal who signs himself "Gold Coin" though we need not say the signature is not genuine, misquotes our article on 'Financial Fallacies when he says we 'gravely assert that the national bank currency aggregates over a billion dollars," and he can therefore, have no argument with us upon his false premises Further on however, he endeavors—and fails—to make it plain that we were in error in reference to gold notes and their value On the contrary, his quotation from the U S statutes corroborates our statement exactly He says

In to-day s issue of that paper (the Oregonian) its editor in a short article under the head of Gold Notes, assures its readers that for every dollar of gold notes issued by the national gold banks the government requires to be deposited with them $1 25 in United States bonds consequently every dollar in gold notes issued actually represents in value one hundred and twenty five cents gold coin Now this is simply untrue By reference to page 1009 'Revised Statutes of the United States" section 5 185 it will be seen that the comptroller of the currency is required to issue 'circulating notes of different denominations, but none of them less than five dollars and not exceeding in amount eighty per cent of the par value of the bonds deposited

Now we ask "Gold Coin" to let finances alone for a moment and turn his mind to arithmetic until he tells what is the difference of the proportion of 80 cents to par (100) and $1 to 125 Or, to make it plainer, suppose 'Gold Coin" should be an Ohio Democrat and want to start a gold-note bank with a capital of $100,000 how much in bonds, worth now about $1 02, or 2 per cent above par, would he be required to deposit under the law? Ans $125 000 Or, to state it plainer yet, if he wished to start with a capital of $80,000, he would be required to deposit $100 000 in bonds, so that each dollar of his gold notes would represent just $1 25 in bonds deposited with the government, such bonds being at par, whereas their actual value is now 2 per cent above "Gold Coin" may be genuine in his character, but his argument and conclusions are bogus

POLITICAL LEVIES

It seems that General H H Bingham, of Philadelphia, has been holding the office of clerk of the quarter sessions for about nine years, and he wants to be re elected, as the place pays him a very large sum of money, some say as much as $40 000 per annum And wanting to be re-elected very badly General Bingham writes the Pennsylvania Republican Association, an organization in Washington City, asking that institution to contribute the modest sum of $2,500 to aid in carrying the Republican ticket in the Keystone State The request caused a stormy debate in the association, but a committee was appointed to solicit subscriptions from the government employees The Philadelphia Times thinks a Pennsylvanian in government employ is a proper subject of commiseration, but that the gallant general has need of all the assistance his fellow office holders can give him It is true that not many of the department clerks, who are called upon to contribute $2 500 for his campaign expenses, have held office, as he has, nine years out of ten, and that the salaries of a whole army of them lumped together would scarcely equal his annual perquisites, but Pennsylvanians in government employ should not be close fisted, and we have no doubt that they will respond with alacrity Still, it does seem a little rough that these poor, half-starved fellows, who find it hard enough to support their families decently in Washington on their small salaries should be bled in this way, it strikes us that the committee might at least exact a contingent engagement from Bingham to refund the $2,500 in case of his election The money would be lost all the same but it would look fairer

CENSUS RETURNS

Quite a number of states, including our own, have been taking a census this year, and some of the returns are published In Wisconsin they show an increase on the census of 1870 of 132 496 or seventeen and three tenths per cent. Milwaukee has 123,152, and a gain of 33, 202 In round numbers Sheboygan has 34,000, Waukesha, 29 000, Racine 28 000, La Crosse, 23 000, Kenosha, 14,000, and Marquette 8,500 Agriculture and manufactures and mining are very happily blended in Wisconsin The Iowa census has not as yet, assumed so definite a form as that of Wisconsin We see it stated, however, that, by estimate, the aggregate will show a population of 1,350,000 If so, the gain since 1870 has been upwards of 150,000, which has taken place chiefly in the counties of the north and north west The counties of Dubuque and Scott have each about 40,000 population, and are the heaviest in the State the one contains the city of Dubuque, with say 25,000 souls, and the other the city of Davenport, with about the same number Burlington is the next city in size, claiming 20,-000 and Des Moines next, 14 000

In many of the states the returns are said to be imperfect, and such is the manner in which they are taken that not much confidence is inspired in the result The duty is generally an extra one laid on the assessor, whose compensation only admits of a hurried enumeration and classification especially in cities, and populous localities. A census, in order to be approximately correct, should be taken as it is done in some of the countries of Europe, England for instance There a large number of persons of smartness and intelligence are appointed Individually they have not much work assigned to them, and they are at least decently paid and their work is regarded with confidence as a statement of the true statistical condition of the country

THE HARVEST

The latest reports reaching us from several points in the Willamette valley all agree in confirmation of former estimates of a very full yield of the grain crop with a very considerable progress in the harvest which, however has been somewhat delayed by the recent occurring showers The fall so in wheat is well under shelter in most instances and safe from fear of injury but a very large proportion in fact, nearly all the spring grain is yet to be threshed and most of it, to be cut. In some large grain growing sections harvest hands have been scarce, and farmers have employed all that offered at fair wages, irrespective of their ability or inclination to perform a full day s work The improved machinery however which is being introduced in our State from year to year is coming very generally into use and the old method of cradling and hand raking are in disuse by all the large farmers In no other branch of his work is promptness and dispatch so essential to a farmer as in gathering his grain and getting it under shelter when it is once ripe and every available means leading him to secure it rapidly ought to demand his serious attention Twenty men, for one day, will cost him no more than two men for ten days and in the last nine of ten days he may lose a great deal The season is now so far past, or the crops so nearly all saved as to render these suggestions inopportune

A DESOLATE HEARTHSTONE

When the ruthless hand of death is laid upon one of a household, and tears from the embrace of parents a loving child others may be left to cheer their hearts and give the comfort in the dark hour of their grief but when as in the case of our friend, Prof Crawford of Salem in one short week three beautiful flowers that bloom by the parental hearthstone are blasted by the death frosts the blow seems all too hard for human hearts to bear without breaking But while the hearthstone is so desolate the eyes that sparkle no more on earth are opened on the scenes of the eternal, the little feet, whose familiar tread may never greet the parents ear again in this life press the beautiful Elysian fields and the tongues silenced as to mortal utterances are attuned to the songs of the immortal

Hon Henry Warren was in the city yesterday He is to meet Lafayette Lane in a discussion of the political issues at Jacksonville on the 7th inst and intends to keep along side of that gentleman till the end of the campaign Mr Warren makes no pretensions to oratory, but he is endowed with good strong common sense which has been well fortified by extensive and accurate observation More over, he is one of the comparatively few men who in a long course of official life in various positions never was accused of any corrupt dishonorable or dishonest act It is a common and ill grounded notion that men who make no enemies have not sufficient force of character to entitle them to public confidence but Henry Warren is one of those exceptional cases wherein a man has made no enemies and yet never flinched from a known duty This is the reputation he bears wherever he is known and unless we misjudge the temper of the people of Oregon it will prove more valuable to him in the contest than eloquent speechjor classic scholarship

The dispatches from California are so meagre as to give no idea as to the general result of the election in that state A private telegram received by a gentleman in this city says the election of Irwin Democrat for governor, is considered certain This dispatch however, came too early in the evening to be considered reliable

LOSSES AND INSURANCE—The losses, sustained by reason of the fire on Tuesday night prove to be much in excess of what was at first supposed As near as can be approximated the total loss will not fall below $50 000 The losses and insurance are as follows Mr Gibson, of the drug store on the corner, sustained a total loss of $6,000 His stock was insured in the Phoenix Insurance Co for $3 000 London Liverpool and Globe, $2 000, the actual loss $2 000 His soda making apparatus was insured in the Fountain and Apparatus for $1,000, but neither State, Investment Co. for $1,000, but neither has sustained any damage. Messrs Ackerman & Oppenheimer of the Dollar Store, have sustained the heaviest loss of any They were carrying a heavy stock at the time—estimated to be worth $35 000 The total amount of insurance will aggregate $30,000, in several companies in San Francisco Mr. Ackerman was in San Francisco at the time of the fire but started overland for Portland yesterday morning. In obedience to a telegram Mrs L Ach's loss will probably be insured at from $15,000 Her stock is in the vicinity of $15 000. Her loss will be insured in two companies—$2,000 in the Firemen's Fund, and $3 000 in the Home Mutual All the stock is very badly damaged and will almost be a total loss. John O Neil & Co also lost heavily, their stock being estimated at from $16,000 to $18,000 The stock was insured in the following companies London Liverpool and Globe, $2,000, Firemens Fund, $1,500, and $9,000 in several San Francisco companies Their stock, although badly damaged, will not prove a total loss Mr J D Scarff, a partner of Mr. O'Neil, who sleeps up stairs over the store, lost all his clothes and furniture, which he values at $500 Mr Thomas Kearney, who is employed by the firm, was busily engaged in removing their damaged stocks to places of safety. This afternoon the building, which belongs to Mr. J M Strowbridge was valued at $6 000 As the building is situated within the fire limits, and cannot be repaired or rebuilt, its owner will have to move it away and erect instead a substantial brick edifice. Yesterday several of the firms were busily engaged in removing their damaged stocks to places of safety. This afternoon the several insurance companies will commence the adjustment of the losses.

LEG AMPUTATED—DEAD—Mention has been made of the sad accident which befell young Herren some days ago, near McMinnville Yamhill county, while driving a team down a steep hill Herren was advised and strongly urged by the attending physician to have his limb—the left leg—amputated near the hip joint. However the young man objected to the operation being performed, as he was in hopes that his life might be saved without the loss of the limb He had lost much blood, and mortification set in after some days, when it was determined to amputate the leg on Monday afternoon Dr. Littlefield, assisted by several physicians, performed the operation in a skillful manner. It proved too much for the unfortunate young man, in his exhausted physical state, and he died soon after the limb was taken off Had the limb been amputated soon after meeting with the accident, it is thought he might have recovered Deceased was aged about 17 years He was an industrious young man and well respected

GRIST MILL DESTROYED—Mr Medorem Crawford received the unwelcome intelligence yesterday that his grist mill at Lafayette was totally destroyed by fire on Tuesday night. There was no insurance on the building. During the time the building was being destroyed, and in the excitement consequent upon the fire, some person or persons attempted to rob the office of the county clerk. The house which was occupied by the county clerk was entered, and a pair of pants stolen, along with the key to the office The thief next entered the county clerk s office and attempted to open the safe. Failing to get away with the combination, the thief hastily decamped, leaving the office in a confused condition. Not the slightest clue has been obtained as to who the incendiary and would be glad to, notwithstanding every effort was made to trace out the perpetrator.

A SAD BEREAVEMENT—Our regular correspondent writing from Salem under date of Sept 1st says: "One week ago yesterday we chronicled the death of "Pearl" youngest daughter of Prof T H and E. B. Crawford, of Salem His two remaining children were taken down with the same disease—diphtheria and to-day we are pained to announce the death of Merle, aged 7 years and 6 months who breathed his last on Tuesday evening at 8.30 o clock and Maude, the oldest, aged about ten years, Wednesday morning. She was the only remaining child and the deaths in one family within the short week, has proved a terrible affliction, and one in which the grief-stricken parents have the earnest sympathy of a large circle of friends and acquaintances The funerals of both will probably take place in Salem to-day."

SCHOOL BUILDINGS RENOVATED—During the past week the board of directors of the public schools have caused the three school buildings to be most thoroughly and completely renovated from basement to attic. The interior of many of the rooms has been repainted, the desks cleaned up and the floors scoured. By next Monday morning the buildings will be in splendid condition for the reception of pupils We are gratified to observe that

THE CASSIAR MINES.

Reports from Cassiar mines in British Columbia papers show that there are about 400 men in the District country Labor is scarce at the diggings Cinnamon getting $ and Indians $4 a day A letter dated Lakeloun August 9th says Dease creek will turn out largely this season Labor is scarce There are 150 men on Dease 300 on McDame and 200 on Thibert Fle latter reported much better than last year Robert Kent has returned from the Dease Lake fully satisfied there is nothing to pay further than McDame creek He went away last October and has been West Lawrence Lindsley and McCulloch and several other bars and creeks and found both to pay and no man can one of a gold country Thos Gallagher is reported more than any one on this creek—about $20 000 within two months

Another Lakelown letter gives the following figures

Name of Claim	Yield in July 31
White Stocking	1[illegible]
Pat Everance	11
Dore Rose	7
Cordelia	90
White Lily	110

The writer adds Williams Toft Co Fujita Co Carrigan Co Wyoming Co Three to One Co Sunburst Co Discovery Co Five Cap Co and several other companies are paying from two to three ounces per day to the hand I hear from Thibert creek that the claims pan well last week—amounts I have not heard—but certainly there is much more money being taken out to the number of men this year than last I don't think there are 1 000 men here this season last year there were over 1 000 but I would no be surprised if they should take as much money this year as last Certainly the mines look well

A letter from Lower Wrangel August 19th to the Colonist says I can glean yet but little of the mines Bets have been freely made in my presence to the tune that ten men will come down with $5 000 I hear that men are now to be had for $8 and $10 per day that best men are out prospecting that Thibert creek gives the best this season that Dease creek has claims staked out four to six miles up that McDame creek gold (I have seen some—small flat and solid) is worth $18 per ounce Dease creek $16 Thibert creek $15 50 Dease lake is about 10 miles round and has a trail round it The season may last till 1st November or the There are all rumors and opinions

A letter from Thibert creek, dated July 30th says The mines here are paying well There are 16 companies above the Discovery and 13 below The most are doing well The claims are paying from $10 per day to $30 and $50 per day to the hand The miners are well supplied with provisions There are two stores one Mr H Thibert's the other Nelson & Co's The goods are selling at very fair prices and the miners are very friendly to every stranger who visits them so if you leave Victoria go to Thibert creek and you will see a happy set of miners and plenty to eat and drink There are about 130 men on the creek all told

STATE TEACHERS' INSTITUTE

SALEM, Sept 1 18[illegible]

After the refreshing shower of yesterday, Salem wears a bright and blooming aspect Since yesterday noon the teachers have been assembling, from Washington, Linn Benton Clackamas Multnomah and Yamhill counties and Marion of course furnishes her quota to the concourse that as embodied this morning at the legislative hall and was called to order by Dr L L Rowland superintendent of public instruction

Rev L J Powell was appointed secretary pro tem

The devotional exercises were conducted by Rev Mr Compton after which Dr Rowland was placed in nomination for president which honor he emphatically declined Prof D M Gault of Hillsboro Washington county was next placed in nomination and this honor he also spoken and declined Prof Creek of Salem was also nominated but he too declined Prof Gault was elected and took the chair prefaced by a neat little address

He then proceeded to call for nominations for vice president Miss Clara Watt was nominated but declined Dr Rowland encouraged her but she placed in nomination Mrs Morse Mrs Mansfield of Albany was also placed in nomination but declined Mrs Morse was duly elected

Rev L J Powell was next nominated for secretary This gentleman after vainly trying to escape was elected and Miss Clara Watt nominated and elected as his assistant after which Rev Powell seemed more satisfied with his position

Dr Rowland announced that owing to the death of two of Prof Crawford's children that gentleman could not be present and in consequence Dr Hill, of Salem was placed in his stead on local committees

Mr Cunningham moved that the chair appoint a committee of three on resolutions which motion was carried

President Gault appointed Prof Sheik as chairman Prof McCubbin and Miss Ella Scott of Washington county as said committee

A recess of five minutes was then taken during which the names of teachers were enrolled to the number of 61

Your luckless reporter came near being called to a seat as reporter of the institute but happily escaped so of course nothing is omitted or if any one's mental corns are trodden on I am safe by reason of not being known

After recess a motion was made that a critic be appointed amended to two which was accepted and carried

Moved that a committee be appointed on question box Carried This committee has not yet been appointed

Motion to adjourn was carried when the institute took a recess until half past 1 this afternoon

SEPTEMBER

Not the full richness of autumnal gladness—
Thine, the first lungnors of leaves and saliness
Leaves not withered quite, yet lowly fading,
Leaves, only edged about with tint and shading;

Grapes purpling on the small yellow cluster
Not all ripened their richest term of luster
Juicy suckled fruits, on orchard bough late swinging
Still swelling with the sweets moist sheer are bringing

Pumpkins a gol lmgnt the slopes in lines
Now mellow suns at eve hang, dimmed by shining
Troubles in heart of half their fret and bat ble
Among the lichened rocks an I pebbly rills le

Gales sighed with the late mown hay and clover
No more to deck the fields the summers over
The birding song has lost its wonted sweetness
A winter now the breadth of its complet ness

Quiet the days the crickets note so cheers
Forbids the thought of winter, cold and fears
Death seems still distant and the future shores a
The scene may change our waking be in sorrow

For human lives oft die in their September
As calm and sweet—some of us well remember
Happy are they to fade when fade the roses,
Before the autumn tide its frost discloses

Or like the crumpled grape of royal splendor—
Of full ripe fruit—crushed ere to render
Let us be wise, give both the thought and measure,
Then death will not a creome not idle pleasure.

THE MYSTERIOUS MAN

Ashtabula Johnson is a mysterious man, and he lives on Aberdeen street Ashtabula is one of those eccentric individuals who buttonholes you on the street, leads you carefully to the edge of the sidewalk, and then, looking about him says very cautiously

"How's Spriggins?"

Spriggins, Spriggins," you reply, "what Spriggins?"

"Louze".

"Oh! I dunno anything about him"

Drawing you still nearer the edge of the walk, the mysterious man says

"This is betw een you and me, how"

"Well!"

"I heard that Spriggins was going into coats he ivy Now he's got reasons, see," and he holds up his forefinger and looks as wise as an owl You get no way from this mysterious man and presently you see him collar Jones in the midst of a large company and march him off to whisper about an equally important matter. As soon as can be calculated Johnson has no other business but this. Well, the other day Ashtabula dropped in to see Philo Martinberger, who tips back his chair in front of a livery stable on State street He found Philo in conversation with some parties from the country, regarding the sale of a car load of horses Taking the dealer by the arm, Ashtabula led him through the stable out of the back door and round the corner to a blacksmith shop Then he sat down on a box, took out his knife, pried off a sliver from the box, and says he

"Phil, I understand you've got a cow to sell. Set down"

Philo looked at him a moment, and then said, very quietly, "Oh, you heard I had a cow to sell?"

"Yes," responded Ashtabula, "sit down and talk her over"

Philo looked at him a minute, then he said "Come here, Johnson"

Johnson came, and his companion took him by the coat-sleeve and started into the street. He went down to where that six-story unfinished building stands, between Dearborn and State, and crawling through the boards that are nailed over the door led Ashtabula up five flights of uncompleted stairs, at the imminent risk of breaking his neck Puffing and blowing, they reached the top, and Philo led the way over the piles of rough lumber to the extreme east end of the building Then, after stopping to take breath, he put his mouth close to Ashtabula's ear, and softly whispered, "I've sold her"

It has been nearly a week since that occurrence, and Mr Johnson is still full of wrath; but a large circle of his acquaintance declare that Philo Martinberger deserves a medal and shall have one —Chicago Inter Ocean

THE INNOCENT OLD LADY

She lives down on Market street, and she has a daughter about eighteen years old The old lady retains all her simplicity and innocence, and she doesn't go two cents on style The other evening, when a' splendid catch" called to escort the daughter to the opera, the mother wouldn't take the hint to keep still, and wouldn't help carry out the daughter's idea that they had we ith While helping her daughter get ready, she asked

"Mary, are you going to wear the shoes with one heel off, or the pair with holes in 'em?"

"Mary didn't seem to hear, and the mother inquired

"Are you going to wear that dollar gold chain and that washed locket, or will you wear the diamond lither bought at the hardware store?"

Mary winked at her, and the young man blushed, but the dear old lady went on—

"Are you going to borrow Mrs Brown's shawl, or will you wear mine?"

Mary bustled around the room, and the mother said

"Be careful of your dress, Mary, you know it's the only one you've got, and you can't have another until the mortgage on this place is lifted"

Mary remarked to her escort that it promised to be a beautiful evening, and as she buttoned her glove her mother asked

"Those are Mrs Hardy's gloves, ain't they? She's been a good neighbor to us, and I don't know how you'd manage to go anywhere if she didn't live near us"

Mary was hurrying to get out of the room, when her mother raised her voice once more and asked

"Did you run into Mrs Jewett's and borrow her bracelet and pin? Yes, I see you did. Well, now, you look real stylish, and I hope you'll have a good time

Mary sits by her window in the pale moonlight and sighs for the splendid young man to come and beau her round some more, but he hasn't been seen up that way since that night The old lady, too, says that he seemed like a mo ey young m n, and she hopes he hasn't been killed by the street cars."

Mr Bluvens an old bachelor of Rochester, who is much absorbed in politics, visited the Widow Graham the other day just after reading Grant's letter, and asked her what she thought of a third term Now, the widow had been twice married and in response to the question she made a rush for the astonished Mr Bluvens and taking him tightly in her arms exclaimed "O you dear, dear man! What a happy woman I am!" At last accounts Mr Bluvens had locked himself in his wood house, and was endeavoring to explain things to the widow through the keyhole

An amusing story is told of Governor Bagley, of Michigan, who is a good Sabbatarian He was lately in Detroit on Sunday, and passing a billiard hall with some friends, heard the balls clicking as if it were a week day He politely inquired of the proprietor if he made a practice of keeping his hall open on Sunday and was astonished when the man replied "No, Governor, not as a general thing, but if you and your party would like to play a quiet game, I guess I can fix it for you"

A dispatch from San Francisco creates the gratifying intelligence that the Meroha ts Exchange bank will open to-morrow morning with ample coin to pay all its liabilities

The Orifflemme brought up $20 000 in gold fresh from the mint The shipment was not so large as desired but with the transfer of $2 000 from the treasury will to some extent relieve the present stringency Coming at the beginning of the month the arrival of gold was opportune and it was in circulation soon after its receipt. Successive steamers will bring larger shipments Money is being drawn to this coast from the East as quickly as possible and the mint in San Francisco is busy coining. Last Friday's coinage amounted to about half a million In about ten days financial affairs will assume a better aspect in the Bay City and in a few days more the improvement will have made itself felt in Port and Until then it will be difficult to obtain accommodations and commercial matters will remain in the sluggish state which has characterized them of late

The Wheat Market

A Liverpool telegram reports the wheat market steady at 9 1 9 1

San Francisco telegrams to private parties represent the wheat market there as at a standstill but with heavy receipts pouring in

A Beerbohm telegram of August 2 th, gives the following Floating cargoes turn dearer cargoe on passage no inquiry Mark Lane steady, No 2 spring off coast 45s@47 d California just ship ped 53 California nearly due 54s Liverpool firm California Club 11s 9d@11s 11d California average 11s 2d@11s 6d Red Western spring 10s@10s 7d Farmers deliveries of wheat in England 3 000 qrs Imports of wheat into the United Kingdom for week 385 000 quarters Imports of flour into United Kingdom for week 16 000 barrels number of cargoes of wheat for sale off the coast 50

By the time the financial outlook begins to brighten there will be quite a large fleet of grain vessels in port and shippers will have their hands full There are no new charters to report. The Elektra and the Alliance are still at Astoria seeking It is reported that an advance on current rates was offered the former vessel but refused The wheat export trade from this coast seems subject to peculiarities A San Francisco exchange describing these changes says that one season a very large portion of the shipments was made on account of Californian speculators Another season the shipments are almost entirely in response to foreign orders The majority last season was the heavy exports on account of farmers One season's operation has apparently let them out as there have been no clearances this season on this account The peculiarity this year is the large number of vessels taking cargo on their own account. Several of the late clearances last season were on the same account and the results have been profitable The fact has encouraged other shipowners to make the same venture and they have been further prompted to this line of conduct by the unusually low freights here and the prospects for good prices for wheat in England this winter The circumstances are somewhat different, since wheat is now considerably higher than it was a few months ago and there is consequently less hope for a large margin Nevertheless the inducements are deemed sufficient to try the experiment which we trust will be successful Two or more of the ten vessels cleared in July were loaded on account of ship, while of the twenty cleared last month fifteen were similarly loaded The vessels chartered for wheat in the past, two months have generally received from 45s to 50s though two or three took less

The British bark Cosma which has been loading at the Greenwich dock has her cargo on board and will probably get to sea this week The British ship City of York will load at the same berth and will be the next vessel to leave At the close of last week there were no fewer than twenty vessels of the largest class loading wheat at San Francisco for Cork and a market. These were chartered at 45s@47s 6d@50s latter rate for British iron ships. There were at same date quite a number of disengaged ships yet in that port seeking business some of them holding out for a 45 freight with little likelihood of getting it. Since July 1st San Francisco cleared for the United Kingdom 59 ships carrying 950,857 centals value $2 080 0 9

Trade Reports

The Boston Advertiser notes that in the exports from Boston for the month of July manufactured goods bore a large proportion to the total The exports for the month were $2 343 145 and manufactures furnished 892 237 or over one fourth The cotton goods exported amounted to $ 85,877 leather $220 608 from steel etc $165 912 wood manufactures $69 651 agricultural implements $68 600 sundries $13 171

The returns of our exports during the last fiscal year are now completed They show a considerable decline in wheat cotton illuminating oil bacon and hams spirits of turpentine tallow leaf tobacco lumber and timber while the increase is especially no teeable in brass, furs hides and skins gold and silver coin hops small arms leather oil cake cheese lard quicksilver seeds, refined, sugar and molasses The total domestic exports for 18 were $643 051 433 against $693 030 045 for the fiscal year 1871, being a decrease of $19 9 9 91

The Cincinnati Price Current estimates from the latest data that there have been 100 000 000 bushels of wheat exposed to damage in the recent rains and thinks that of this amount 25 000 000 is rendered unfit for flour leaving 75 000 000 in merchantable condition

According to the statistical returns and reports now being made concerning increase in population and in the value of property in different states It would appear that the country never grew faster than it has grown during that panic time which has been known ever since the middle of September 1873

The returns of the foreign trade of France for the first six months of the present year as compared with the same period of 1874 show a decrease in imports of the value of 31 460 000 francs and an increase of exports to the amount of 263 812 000 francs It will thus be seen that the balance of exports over imports in the six months of 18 amounts to $221 000 000 whereas in 1874 the imports exceeded the exports by $74 000 Evidently France has no fault to find with the operation of her protective policy

Shipping Intelligence.
